

Using grant funding from the John T. Gorman Foundation, LSE is currently conducting a statewide public awareness campaign focused on preventing the financial exploitation of older Mainers and helping those who are being exploited to get the help they need. Click on the videos below to view the public service announcements that are appearing on television across the state of Maine.

Source URL: <https://mainelse.org/content/public-awareness-campaign>